Family Fun at Bohemian Nights at NewWestFest

Fort Collins, Colo.– Bohemian Nights at NewWestFest is well-known among Northern Coloradans as the festival that embodies Fort Collins' culture of live music, locally-made beer, food fare and family friendly entertainment.

This free, three-day community music festival is held each August in historic downtown Fort Collins. There are over 80 Colorado bands in the 2016 lineup, including three nationally-renowned headliners on the Mountain Avenue Main Stage: DeVotchKa on Friday night; The Fray on Saturday night; and a Sunday evening headliner to be announced on August 8th.

Bohemian Nights at NewWestFest hosts a plethora of family friendly activities for festival goers of any age to enjoy. This year, the Downtown Business Association's Kids' World will be hosting 10 live performances on the Kids' World stage and a full-scale carnival including games, mechanical rides, face painting, inflatable bounce castles, ropes courses and kid friendly interactive exhibits. Although cash and credit will be accepted festival wide, Carnival Bucks will still be required for Kids' World and may be purchased at the Carnival Bucks tents located at the intersection of Mathews St. and Olive St.

The Bohemian Nights-produced Kids Music Adventure area is located inside the the historic cabins and courtyard in the southwest corner of Library Park, and features youth musical performances, instruments for kids to experiment with and kid friendly musical performances.
